

Luke Vogt is a percussionist and educator originally from Phoenix, Arizona, currently residing in Austin, Texas. Combining a passion for music and people, alongside world-class education and performance experience, Luke strives to provide musicians, students, and educators the tools needed to make their goals a reality. Luke holds a bachelor's degree in Music Education from Arizona State University and a master's degree in Percussion Performance from Texas Christian University.

In the area of marching percussion, Luke has performed with the Arizona State University Marching Band, ASU Indoor Percussion Ensemble, The Academy Drum and Bugle Corps, Blue Knights Drum and Bugle Corps, and the entertainment drum lines for both the Phoenix Suns and the Arizona Cardinals. As a percussion instructor, Luke is currently on staff with The Academy Drum and Bugles Corps (Tempe, AZ), Monarch Independent (Houston, TX), and Rouse High School (Leander, TX). In addition to his current ensembles, Luke has worked with and designed for a variety of high school and independent percussion ensembles.

As a clinician, Luke has served as a critique judge for the AZPAS Fall Day of Percussion, and a tenor instructor for the Arizona State University Spring Drum Line Clinic.
